

The Pre-Mover Information consists of consumers who have listed their home listed for sale. The ability to identify households before they move is immensely valuable to marketers for selling products and services. The buying and selling of a home begins a series of critical, valuable and educated buying decisions by the consumer. Utilize this data to maximize the return on your investment as you find Future Home Buyers during the critical eager-to-buy phase before and during the move.